TRENDLESS...

Dow Jones Industrial Average

■ DOW

I know what the headlines say, “MARKET HITS A NEW ALL-TIME HIGH.”

I have always warned against judging the market by the headlines. At times, some of the gloomiest headlines appear when the market is roaring like it was last year.

Headlines sell newspaper, but pictures tell the truth.

As you can see from the above picture, the Dow is just barely higher than where it began the year. In addition to this, the Dow has been down over 7% in the interim.

The NASDAQ has been even a wilder ride.

NASDAQ Composite

■ NASDAQ

The NASDAQ has barely budged since late January. It had a 6% sell-off towards the end of January and an 8.3% sell-off in March. Now it is basically began where it began the year. Uptrends have not stuck, neither have downtrends. It has been a wild ride so far.

That is why I call it a TRENDLESS market.

It must also be remembered that the market is a market of stocks, sectors, and asset classes. The Dow, S&P 500, and the NASDAQ indexes do not really tell us what lies beneath.

The internals of the market are much worse than the overall market, especially amongst last year's leading stocks and sectors.

The Social Media Index is still down 21.4% from its March high.

The Biotech Index is still down almost 13% from its late February high.

The Internet Index still down just over 12% from its early March high.

So don't always believe the headlines.

This is a tough market. Professional investors need trends of some kind to follow. I keep trying. But we really have not hand a trend stick so far.

I listened to a panel of experts discussing the big rally in the bond market this year. NOBODY had a good answer for this big flight to safety.

It is my opinion that the U.S. economy is not doing as well as those darn HEADLINES are telling us.

The nation's GDP was down 1.0% for the first quarter of 2014. Yes, we had a severe winter, but I wonder where second quarter GDP will come in at? The consensus estimate is just north of 3.0%. I will believe that when I see it.

I am one of those skeptics who do not really believe the numbers coming out of Washington. They seem to be very good at massaging numbers.

India is still the leading index in the world despite some consolidation this past week. I am still a very big believer in the India story.

I wrote about it for theStreet.com this past week. You can read my story here.

I rank 60 different asset classes on a daily basis. This give me a good indication of where the money is flowing. As you know last year was all about U.S. small caps. This year is completely different! Here is where we stand right now.

Once, again we see strong evidence of a trendless market. There are no A- or better rated asset classes. On a relative basis the Nasdaq sits at the top, but we have already determined that the Nasdaq is basically FLAT for the year. MLP's continue to do well, but they are for income investors.

Bill Gunderson's Conservative Growth Model Portfolio

This model is made up of mostly large and mid-cap companies that I consider suitable for investors who have a conservative growth risk profile. Time horizon of at least 3-5 years would be appropriate. Investors need to be able to ride through swings of 10-18%, however.

This portfolio was up 23.8% in 2013. This is net of an annual mgt. fee of 2% and all $7 trades. This portfolio is

Bill Gunderson's Income & Growth Model Portfolio

This portfolio is for investors seeking Income along with the possibility of Growth. This is a good mix for retirees who are seeking a CD alternative-albeit with greater risk. This is my MOST CONSERVATIVE portfolio. Still, investors need to be able to handle a 10-15% swing. This portfolio currently has an average yield of 3.6%. This portfolio was up 21.75% in 2013. It is now up 30.7% since its August 5, 2011 inception. This works out to an annualized rate of 9.91%. Not bad for an Income account.

Bill Gunderson's ETF Model Portfolio

This portfolio is for investors seeking growth. Investors should have at least a five year time horizon and be able to handle swings of 10-20%. BIG LOSSES COULD OCCUR IF EXTREME EVENTS WERE TO HIT THE WORLD SUDDENLY.

This portfolio was up 27.07% in 2013. This portfolio is

Bill Gunderson's Aggressive Growth Model Portfolio

This is my most aggressive portfolio. It is designed for investors with long-term time horizons, seeking maximum growth. It is also my most VOLATILE portfolio. Investors need to be able to stomach as much as 10-20% swings from time to time in an aggressive style of investing. This portfolio goes anywhere in the world, wherever the action is. This portfolio was up 39.5% in 2013 after all expenses. It can also be heavily weighted in certain sectors of the market.

Bill Gunderson's 401-K/Mutual Fund Model Portfolio

Everyone has different choices to them in their 401-ks. The choices basically fall into several broad categories however: Large Cap, Mid-Cap, Small-Cap, Govt. Bond, Corp. Bond, Inflation Protected Bond, International, Emerging Market, and maybes sectors like technology, natural resources, etc.

I have added a number of mutual funds to my Best Stocks Now database that are representative of the various categories of funds that are available in most 401k plans. I grade them on a daily basis. I am almost done with my BEST MUTUAL FUNDS NOW™ app.

If you have a wide selection of mutual funds in your plan, here is my current recommendation. This portfolio was up 31.33% in 2013 (net of all fees and trading costs).

Bill Gunderson's Trading Account (new)

This is Bill Gunderson's actual trading account. I deposited $25,000 into it on 3/21/14 and went shopping. I have sent out a tweet on every trade I have made since. For the most part, these stocks are too small or too thinly traded for my managed accounts. This is not a day-trading account. I am looking to bag some big winners, while keeping a short leash on my positions. I am now putting in 7-8% trailing sell stops on all positions. I am also now buying $2000 positions as opposed to $1,000 positions. This is still a very tough year for active traders.

I continue to scour the market for a few good big winners!
