Seven Day Losing Streak...

This is getting old. We have not had a seven day losing streak in the market for quite some time!

As a lifelong San Diego Padre fan, I am used to losing streaks, but this is out of character for this six year old-plus bull market.

What is going on? Summer volatility is fairly normal, but is there more to this losing streak?

Let's begin this week by looking at some pictures. Trouble in a stock or an index almost always starts to show up in the chart first. Here is a current 5-year chart of the Dow Jones Industrial Average.

I DO NOT like the way that it is shaping up! As you can see from the chart above, the DJIA has a “rolling-over” look to it. This can be a very ominous chart. You can also see however, that the DJIA has done this a few time before during this 77 month long Bull Market.

This chart in and of itself does not mean that the bull market has come to an end, but it is a warning shot that has been fired over our bow.

We have to look at a lot more evidence and facts before we start buying inverse funds. While we are on the subject of inverse funds, let have a look at DOG, the inverse version of the Dow.

The above chart IS NOT a chart I would run out and buy. It still looks awful. These two charts will be important to watch going forward, however. Let's zoom in and have a look at a one-year chart of the Dow. Support lies right around 17,000.

The S&P 500 is not rolling over as badly as the Dow, but it has been “leveling” off.

Here is a one-year chart of the S&P 500. It has been “sloppy” at best over the last year. Support lies around 2,040.

Now let's look at the leading index in the U.S., the Nasdaq. It appears to still be going strong.

Here is a one-year chart of the Nasdaq. It still looks good also.

The emerging markets still look bad, but maybe are near a bottom?

We still have a lot more to look out before we arrive at a verdict for the week.

Here is how we finished a five-day losing streak in the market.

China has spent $1.2 trillion to stabilize their stock market. It seems to be working so far, but this not how markets should work.

Brazil had a chance to change their leader, they did not. Now her approval rating stands at 8%, and their market continues to reel.

The drop in oil has accelerated once again and it continues to have a BIG IMPACT on the stock market. I went into the numbers in depth in last week's newsletter.

Bonds are suddenly looking more attractive, but are still negative for the year.

Now for the current ranking of the 34 asset classes that I track on a daily basis. I am not an asset allocator. I believe in being invested in the best asset classes, not the worst ones. I would rather have my 50% recommended bond exposure in dividend paying stocks right now!

Here are this week's worst ranked asset classes. Avoid these neighborhoods.

The leading sectors came under attack this past week. The internet sector has now taken over the top spot.

The “defensive” Consumer Staple Sector is now second.

The biotech sector “wobbled” this past week, but it is still a leader for now;’

The healthcare sector also remains a leader.

The ranking of the leveraged sectors also magnifies where the leading sectors are:

Gunderson Conservative Growth Model “C” Portfolio

This model is made up of mostly large-cap companies that I consider suitable for investors who have a conservative growth risk profile. Selections come from mostly the S&P 500 and the DJIA. Time horizon of at least 3-5 years would be appropriate. Investors need to be able to ride through swings up or down of at least 10-25%, however. Unforeseen world events are also always a risk! If appropriate, bonds or inverse funds could be included in this portfolio.

This portfolio is up 73.64% since its Jan. 1, 2010 inception. It is now up 2.52% YTD. This is net of an annual mgt. fee of 2% and all $3.50 trades. I sold

Gunderson Model “B” (Moderate Risk Portfolio)

This model pulls from the DJIA, Nasdaq, S&P Mid-cap, and a S&P Small-Cap stocks. It is more conservative than the Aggressive Growth Portfolio, and it is more aggressive than the Conservative Growth portfolio. Time horizon of at least 3-5 years would be appropriate. Investors need to be able to ride through swings up or down of at least 10-25%, however. This portfolio could contain bonds or inverse funds. Unforeseen world events are also always a risk!

This is by far, my biggest portfolio at Gunderson Capital Mgt. It is now up 6.75% YTD. I sold

Gunderson Model “D” Portfolio (Dividend & Growth)

This portfolio is for investors seeking Income along with the possibility of Growth. This is a good mix for retirees who are seeking a CD or Bond alternative-albeit with greater risk. This is my MOST CONSERVATIVE portfolio. Still, investors need to be able to handle 10-25% swing up or down. Again, unforeseen world events are always a risk. If appropriate, this portfolios could contain bonds or inverse funds. This portfolio currently has an average yield of 2.3%.

This portfolio is now up 31.07% since its August 5, 2011 inception. This portfolio is now down -1.09% YTD. I sold

Gunderson Aggressive Growth Model “A” Portfolio

This is my most aggressive portfolio. It is designed for investors with long-term time horizons, seeking maximum growth. It is also my most VOLATILE portfolio. Investors need to be able to stomach as much as 10-30% swings from time to time in an aggressive style of investing. This portfolio goes anywhere in the world, wherever the action is. It can also be heavily weighted in certain sectors of the market. Unforeseen world events will always be a risk to markets.

This portfolio is up 59.66% since its Jan. 1, 2011 inception. It is now up 0.78% YTD. I sold...

Gunderson Trading Model Portfolio (Model “T”)

This is my MOST AGGRESSIVE account. For the most part, these stocks are too small or too thinly traded for my managed accounts. This is not a day-trading account. I am looking to bag some big winners, while keeping a short leash on my positions. I am using 7-8% GTC trailing sell stops on most of these investments.

Gunderson Model “E” Portfolio (ETF’s)

This portfolio is for investors seeking growth. Investors should have at least a five year time horizon and be able to handle swings of 10-25%. BIG LOSSES COULD OCCUR IF EXTREME EVENTS WERE TO HIT THE WORLD SUDDENLY.

This portfolio is now up 21.67% since its Jan. 1, 2013 inception, and it is down

Gunderson’s Model “F” Portfolio (Funds/401-k)

Everyone has different choices to them in their 401-ks. The choices basically fall into several broad categories however: Large Cap, Mid-Cap, Small-Cap, Govt. Bond, Corp. Bond, Inflation Protected Bond, International, Emerging Markets, and maybe sectors like technology, natural resources, etc.

I have added a number of mutual funds to my Best Stocks Now database that are representative of the various categories of funds that are available in most 401k plans. I grade them on a daily basis. If you have a wide selection of mutual funds in your plan, here is my current advice.

This portfolio is now up 4.32% year to date and 36.17% since its 1/1/13 inception.
